

China and Its Neighbours: Threats and Opportunities
Department of Asian Studies, Palacký University Olomouc
7.-11.7.2014

INVESTMENTS IN EDUCATION DEVELOPMENT

Time	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
	Julie Chen	San-yi Yang	San-yi Yang	Nikolay Samoylov	Enze Han
	The Discourse of Race in Modern China	Cross-strait Relations: An Asymmetrical Dependence Between Small and Major Powers	European Union Integration and Its Implication for East Asia Integration	Recent Trends in China's Policy towards Central Asia	Territorial Disputes with Neighboring Countries
10.30 - 10.50	Coffee break	Coffee break	Coffee break	Coffee break	Coffee break
10.50 - 12.20	Julie Chen	San-yi Yang	San-yi Yang	Nikolay Samoylov	Enze Han
	Ethnicity at the Frontiers	Cross-strait Relations: An Asymmetrical Dependence Between Small and Major Powers	European Union Integration and Its Implication for East Asia Integration	Shanghai Cooperation Organization: Achievements, Challenges and Perspectives	Territorial Disputes with Neighboring Countries
12.20 - 13.40	Lunch break	Lunch break	Lunch break	Lunch break	Lunch break
13.40 - 15.10	Nikolay Samoylov	Julie Chen	City tour	Enze Han	Students
	Sino-Russian Border: from Territorial Disputes to Contemporary Agreements	Internationalization of Ethnic Conflicts		China's Relations with SE Asia	Presentations
15.10 - 15.30	Coffee break	Coffee break		Coffee break	Coffee break
15.30 - 17.00	Nikolay Samoylov	Julie Chen		Enze Han	Students
	China and Russia: New Prospects for Bilateral Relations	Reforms of Ethnic Policies		China's Relations with SE Asia	Presentations

This event is co-financed from the European Social Fund and State financial resources

Additional Information about program:

- Monday July 7th: registration opens at 8:20am
- Wednesday July 9th: optional city tour from 1:40am until 5pm
- Saturday July 12th: optional trip to Kroměříž, planned return to Olomouc at 5pm
- The library of the Department of Asian Studies, where you can use the computers with internet access as well as access to electronic journals of Palacký University Olomouc, will be open between Monday and Thursday from 8am to 7pm for all students of the summer school. There is also scanner and printer available.